

Digital Services Act package: open public consultation

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

The Commission recently announced a Digital Services Act package with two main pillars:

- first, a proposal of new and revised rules to deepen the Single Market for Digital Services, by increasing and harmonising the responsibilities of online platforms and information service providers and reinforce the oversight over platforms' content policies in the EU;
- second, ex ante rules to ensure that markets characterised by large platforms with significant network effects acting as gatekeepers, remain fair and contestable for innovators, businesses, and new market entrants.

T h i s

c o n s u l t a t i o n

The Commission is initiating the present open public consultation as part of its evidence-gathering exercise, in order to identify issues that may require intervention through the Digital Services Act, as well as additional topics related to the environment of digital services and online platforms, which will be further analysed in view of possible upcoming initiatives, should the issues identified require a regulatory intervention.

The consultation contains 6 modules (you can respond to as many as you like):

1. How to effectively keep users safer online?
2. Reviewing the liability regime of digital services acting as intermediaries?
3. What issues derive from the gatekeeper power of digital platforms?
4. Other emerging issues and opportunities, including online advertising and smart contracts
5. How to address challenges around the situation of self-employed individuals offering services through online platforms?
6. What governance for reinforcing the Single Market for digital services?

Digital services and other terms used in the questionnaire

The questionnaire refers to digital services (or 'information society services', within the meaning of the E-Commerce Directive), as 'services provided through electronic means, at a distance, at the request of the user'. It also refers more narrowly to a subset of digital services here termed online intermediary services. By this we mean services such as internet access providers, cloud services, online platforms, messaging services, etc., i.e. services that generally transport or intermediate content, goods or services made available by third parties. Parts of the questionnaire specifically focus on online platforms – such as e-commerce marketplaces, search engines, app stores, online travel and accommodation platforms or mobility platforms and other collaborative economy platforms, etc.

Other terms and other technical concepts are explained in a glossary.

H o w t o r e s p o n d

Make sure to save your draft regularly as you fill in the questionnaire. You can break off and return to finish it at any time. At the end, you will also be able to upload a document or add other issues not covered in detail in the questionnaire.

I. How to effectively keep users safer online?

This module of the questionnaire is structured into several subsections:

First, it seeks evidence, experience, and data from the perspective of different stakeholders regarding illegal activities online, as defined by national and EU law. This includes the availability online of illegal goods (e.g. dangerous products, counterfeit goods, prohibited and restricted goods, protected wildlife, pet trafficking, illegal medicines, misleading offerings of food supplements), content (e.g. illegal hate speech, child sexual abuse material, content that infringes intellectual property rights), and services, or practices that infringe consumer law (such as scams, misleading advertising, exhortation to purchase made to children) online. It covers all types of illegal activities, both as regards criminal law and civil law.

It then asks you about other activities online that are not necessarily illegal but could cause harm to users, such as the spread of online disinformation or harmful content to minors.

It also seeks facts and informed views on the potential risks of erroneous removal of legitimate content. It also asks you about the transparency and accountability of measures taken by digital services and online platforms in particular in intermediating users' access to their content and enabling oversight by third parties. Respondents might also be interested in related questions in the module of the consultation focusing on online advertising.

Second, it explores proportionate and appropriate responsibilities and obligations that could be required from online intermediaries, in particular online platforms, in addressing the set of issues discussed in the first sub-section.

This module does not address the liability regime for online intermediaries, which is further explored in the next module of the consultation.

Illegal content

17 Are you aware of the action taken following your report?

- Yes
- No

18 How has the dissemination of illegal content changed since the outbreak of COVID-19? Please explain.

3000 character(s) maximum

COVID has resulted in more time being spent at home for children and perpetrators alike, and has reduced the active moderation workforce of major Internet platforms. Anecdotal reports suggest that this has created an uptick in the creation and distribution of child abuse content. More research to quantify this apparent trend is needed.

19 What good practices can you point to in handling the dissemination of illegal content online since the outbreak of COVID-19?

3000 character(s) maximum

Twitter and Reddit are among the platforms that have improved their referral resources for users who are in need of information and resources. For example, searches for keywords that suggest the user is seeking out illegal content, or may be feeling suicidal, can be made to return helpful information. ProStasia Foundation supports and promotes a peer support forum for some who are at a higher risk of self-harm or harming others, that we are encouraging platforms to link to. (See <https://mapsupport.club/>.)

20 What actions do online platforms take to minimise risks for consumers to be exposed to scams and other unfair practices (e.g. misleading advertising, exhortation to purchase made to children)?

3000 character(s) maximum

21 Do you consider these measures appropriate?

- Yes
- No
- I don't know

22 Please explain.

3000 character(s) maximum

B. Transparency

1 If your content or offering of goods and services was ever removed or blocked from an online platform, were you informed by the platform?

- Yes, I was informed before the action was taken
- Yes, I was informed afterwards
- Yes, but not on every occasion / not by all the platforms
- No, I was never informed
- I don't know

2 Were you able to follow-up on the information?

- Yes, I complained to the platform
- Yes, I escalated to an out-of-court dispute mechanism
- No, but it was useful to learn about the platform's policy
- No
- Other. Please specify in the text box below

3 Please explain.

3000 character(s) maximum

4 If you provided a notice to a digital service asking for the removal or disabling of access to such content or offering of goods or services, were you informed about the follow-up to the request?

- Yes, I was informed
- Yes, but not on every occasion / not by all platforms
- No, I was never informed
- I don't know

5 When content is recommended to you - such as products to purchase on a platform, or videos to watch, articles to read, users to follow - are you able to obtain enough information on why such content has been recommended to you? Please explain.

3000 character(s) maximum

C. Activities that could cause harm but are not, in themselves, illegal

1 In your experience, are children adequately protected online from harmful behaviour, such as grooming and bullying, or inappropriate content?

3000 character(s) maximum

This question is not framed in a helpful way. If a single child is ever groomed or bullied, then it is natural to say that whatever protection measures existed were not "adequate." However, this assumes that additional protections would be costless, which is not the case. For a given investment of resources, more children can be protected through social interventions such as education and support to families, caregivers, and at-risk communities, than by placing further responsibilities on Internet platforms to ensure children's safety. A comprehensive approach to the prevention of grooming and bullying cannot rely on Internet platforms because at a certain point, there is nothing more that platforms can do—at least not without sacrificing fundamental human rights. This doesn't mean that our society can't do more to prevent abusive behavior online, but it does mean that a more holistic approach needs to be taken to accomplishing this. For further information please read: <https://prostasia.org/blog/internet-companies-alone-cant-prevent-online-harms/>.

2 To what extent do you agree with the following statements related to online disinformation?

	Fully agree	Somewhat agree	Neither agree not disagree	Somewhat disagree	Fully disagree	I don't know/ No reply

3 Please explain.

3000 character(s) maximum

The framing of this question as a binary is unhelpful. Can online platforms be trusted that their internal practices sufficiently guarantee democratic integrity, pluralism, non-discrimination, tolerance, justice, solidarity and gender equality? Not without more, no. But would this situation be improved by regulating them to conform to government-imposed standards? Also no. A collaborative, multi-stakeholder approach to developing platform best practices is the superior option to both alternatives.

4 In your personal experience, how has the spread of harmful (but not illegal) activities online changed since the outbreak of COVID-19? Please explain.

3000 character(s) maximum

"Harmful (but not illegal)" is such a subjective and ill-defined concept that this question cannot be answered in a meaningful way. Governments should not be concerned with regulating harmful speech unless they are first able to clearly define it. Once they have done so, there are also strict limits that constrain their ability to regulate such speech. For this reason, the preferable approach is to address the harms of lawful speech at the root: for example, through community education and support, rather than through censorship or regulation of speech platforms.

5 What good practices can you point to in tackling such harmful activities since the outbreak of COVID-19?

3000 character(s) maximum

D. Experiences and data on erroneous removals

This section covers situation where content, goods or services offered online may be removed erroneously contrary to situations where such a removal may be justified due to for example illegal nature of such content, good or service (see sections of this questionnaire above).

1 Are you aware of evidence on the scale and impact of erroneous removals of content, goods, services, or banning of accounts online? Are there particular experiences you could share?

5000 character(s) maximum

Our answer is limited to the erroneous removals of content on the grounds of child protection or child exploitation, since this is our area of expertise. Although such content is readily removed, it is often over-removed due to the stigma attached to this topic and the loose definition of "child exploitation" that some platforms have adopted. (Facebook is an exception to this: its definition is clear and precise.) As such, we have seen the removal of safe-for-work content about consensual sexual practices between adults, safe-for-work artwork depicting adults, and even the accounts of activists for child sexual abuse prevention. In many cases the appeal processes of major platforms have been insufficient to address these wrongful removals. Even ProStasia Foundation itself was affected by the wrongful cancellation of our PayPal account after someone falsely complained that we were associated with child exploitation. See this letter about that from Article 19: <https://prostasia.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/12/Prostasia-case-and-Paypal-submission-December-2019.pdf>.

The following questions are targeted at organisations.

Individuals responding to the consultation are invited to go to section 2 here below on responsibilities for online platforms and other digital services

3 What is your experience in flagging content, or offerings of goods or services you deemed illegal to online platforms and/or other types of online intermediary services? Please explain in what capacity and through what means you flag content.

3000 character(s) maximum

When regular reporting mechanisms are insufficient to produce quick action, we have reached out directly to higher level platform representatives with our concerns. This resulted in the removal of a notorious clearweb child abuse website being removed from search engines Bing and DuckDuckGo. Until then, the website was accessible with a well-known search term that had been identified in research literature. But we also act to reduce demand for such content, through online advertising campaigns and by sponsoring and promoting a successful peer support group for an at-risk community.

4 If applicable, what costs does your organisation incur in such activities?

3000 character(s) maximum

5 Have you encountered any issues, in particular, as regards illegal content or goods accessible from the EU but intermediated by services established in third countries? If yes, how have you dealt with these?

3000 character(s) maximum

6 If part of your activity is to send notifications or orders for removing illegal content or goods or services made available through online intermediary services, or taking other actions in relation to content, goods or services, please explain whether you report on your activities and their outcomes:

- Yes, through regular transparency reports
- Yes, through reports to a supervising authority
- Yes, upon requests to public information
- Yes, through other means. Please explain
- No , no such reporting is done

7 Please provide a link to publicly available information or reports.

1000 character(s) maximum

8 Does your organisation access any data or information from online platforms?

- Yes, data regularly reported by the platform, as requested by law
- Yes, specific data, requested as a competent authority
- Yes, through bilateral or special partnerships
- On the basis of a contractual agreement with the platform
- Yes, generally available transparency reports
- Yes, through generally available APIs (application programme interfaces)
- Yes, through web scraping or other independent web data extraction approaches
- Yes, because users made use of their right to port personal data
- Yes, other. Please specify in the text box below
- No

9 Please indicate which one(s). What data is shared and for what purpose, and are there any constraints that limit these initiatives?

3000 character(s) maximum

We have predominantly made use of Twitter, Reddit, and Facebook transparency reports.

10 What sources do you use to obtain information about users of online platforms and other digital services – such as sellers of products online, service providers, website holders or providers of content online? For what purpose do you seek this information?

3000 character(s) maximum

11 Do you use WHOIS information about the registration of domain names and related information?

- Yes
- No
- I don't know

13 How valuable is this information for you?

Please rate from 1 star (not particularly important) to 5 (extremely important)

14 Do you use or are you aware of alternative sources of such data? Please explain.

3000 character(s) maximum

The following questions are targeted at online intermediaries.

A. Measures taken against illegal goods, services and content online shared by users

1 What systems, if any, do you have in place for addressing illegal activities conducted by the users of your service (sale of illegal goods -e.g. a counterfeit product, an unsafe product, prohibited and restricted goods, wildlife and pet trafficking - dissemination of illegal content or illegal provision of services)?

- A notice-and-action system for users to report illegal activities
- A dedicated channel through which authorities report illegal activities
- Cooperation with trusted organisations who report illegal activities, following a fast-track assessment of the notification
- A system for the identification of professional users ('know your customer')

- A system for penalising users who are repeat offenders
- A system for informing consumers that they have purchased an illegal good, once you become aware of this
- Multi-lingual moderation teams
- Automated systems for detecting illegal activities. Please specify the detection system and the type of illegal content it is used for
- Other systems. Please specify in the text box below
- No system in place

2 Please explain.

5000 character(s) maximum

We have developed a plugin technology to scan the peer support chat group that we sponsor for illegal content, to enable it to be quarantined and reported. See: <https://prostasia.org/project/eliminating-child-abuse-images/>.

3 What issues have you encountered in operating these systems?

5000 character(s) maximum

The PhotoDNA algorithm is very easy to circumvent. "Security through obscurity" is never a viable model, and relying on secret algorithms will never be fit for purpose. This is why we must also address the demand for illegal content, by reaching out to at-risk communities directly and providing information and support resources.

4 On your marketplace (if applicable), do you have specific policies or measures for the identification of sellers established outside the European Union ?

- Yes
- No

5 Please quantify, to the extent possible, the costs of the measures related to 'notice-and-action' or other measures for the reporting and removal of different types of illegal goods, services and content, as relevant.

5000 character(s) maximum

6 Please provide information and figures on the amount of different types of illegal content, services and goods notified, detected, removed, reinstated and on the number or complaints received from users. Please explain and/or link to publicly reported information if you publish this in regular transparency reports.

5000 character(s) maximum

7 Do you have in place measures for detecting and reporting the incidence of suspicious behaviour (i.e. behaviour that could lead to criminal acts such as acquiring materials for such acts)?

3000 character(s) maximum

B. Measures against other types of activities that might be harmful but are not, in themselves, illegal

1 Do your terms and conditions and/or terms of service ban activities such as:

- Spread of political disinformation in election periods?
- Other types of coordinated disinformation e.g. in health crisis?
- Harmful content for children?
- Online grooming, bullying?
- Harmful content for other vulnerable persons?
- Content which is harmful to women?
- Hatred, violence and insults (other than illegal hate speech)?
- Other activities which are not illegal per se but could be considered harmful?

2 Please explain your policy.

5000 character(s) maximum

3 Do you have a system in place for reporting such activities? What actions do they trigger?

3000 character(s) maximum

4 What other actions do you take? Please explain for each type of behaviour considered.

5000 character(s) maximum

5 Please quantify, to the extent possible, the costs related to such measures.

5000 character(s) maximum

6 Do you have specific policies in place to protect minors from harmful behaviours such as online grooming or bullying?

- Yes
- No

7 Please explain.

3000 character(s) maximum

C. Measures for protecting legal content goods and services

1 Does your organisation maintain an internal complaint and redress mechanism to your users for instances where their content might be erroneously removed, or their accounts blocked?

- Yes
- No

2 What action do you take when a user disputes the removal of their goods or content or services, or restrictions on their account? Is the content/good reinstated?

5000 character(s) maximum

3 What are the quality standards and control mechanism you have in place for the automated detection or removal tools you are using for e.g. content, goods, services, user accounts or bots?

3000 character(s) maximum

4 Do you have an independent oversight mechanism in place for the enforcement of your content policies?

- Yes
- No

5 Please explain.

5000 character(s) maximum

D. Transparency and cooperation

1 Do you actively provide the following information:

- Information to users when their good or content is removed, blocked or demoted
- Information to notice providers about the follow-up on their report
- Information to buyers of a product which has then been removed as being illegal

2 Do you publish transparency reports on your content moderation policy?

- Yes
- No

3 Do the reports include information on:

- Number of takedowns and account suspensions following enforcement of your terms of service?
- Number of takedowns following a legality assessment?
- Notices received from third parties?
- Referrals from authorities for violations of your terms of service?
- Removal requests from authorities for illegal activities?
- Number of complaints against removal decisions?
- Number of reinstated content?
- Other, please specify in the text box below

4 Please explain.

5000 character(s) maximum

5 What information is available on the automated tools you use for identification of illegal content, goods or services and their performance, if applicable? Who has access to this information? In what formats?

5000 character(s) maximum

6 How can third parties access data related to your digital service and under what conditions?

The following questions are open for all respondents.

2. Clarifying responsibilities for online platforms and other digital services

1 What responsibilities (i.e. legal obligations) should be imposed on online platforms and under what conditions?

Should such measures be taken, in your view, by all online platforms, or only by specific ones (e.g. depending on their size, capability, extent of risks of exposure to illegal activities conducted by their users)? If you consider that some measures should only be taken by large online platforms, please identify which would these measures be.

	Yes, by all online platforms, based on the activities they intermediate (e.g. content hosting, selling goods or services)	Yes, only by larger online platforms	Yes, only platforms at particular risk of exposure to illegal activities by their users	Such measures should not be required by law
Maintain an effective 'notice and action' system for reporting illegal goods or content	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Maintain a system for assessing the risk of exposure to illegal goods or content	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>

Have content moderation teams, appropriately trained and resourced	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Systematically respond to requests from law enforcement authorities	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Cooperate with national authorities and law enforcement, in accordance with clear procedures	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Cooperate with trusted organisations with proven expertise that can report illegal activities for fast analysis ('trusted flaggers')	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
Detect illegal content, goods or services	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
In particular where they intermediate sales of goods or services, inform their professional users about their obligations under EU law	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Request professional users to identify themselves clearly ('know your customer' policy)	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Provide technical means allowing professional users to comply with their obligations (e.g. enable them to publish on the platform the pre-contractual information consumers need to receive in accordance with applicable consumer law)	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Inform consumers when they become aware of product recalls or sales of illegal goods	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Cooperate with other online platforms for exchanging best practices, sharing information or tools to tackle illegal activities	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
Be transparent about their content policies, measures and their effects	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Maintain an effective 'counter-notice' system for users whose goods or content is removed to dispute erroneous decisions	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Other. Please specify	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

2 Please elaborate, if you wish to further explain your choices.

3 What information would be, in your view, necessary and sufficient for users and third parties to send to an online platform in order to notify an illegal activity (sales of illegal goods, offering of services or sharing illegal content) conducted by a user of the service?

- Precise location: e.g. URL
- Precise reason why the activity is considered illegal
- Description of the activity
- Identity of the person or organisation sending the notification. Please explain under what conditions such information is necessary:
- Other, please specify

4 Please explain

3000 character(s) maximum

5 How should the reappearance of illegal content, goods or services be addressed, in your view? What approaches are effective and proportionate?

5000 character(s) maximum

Scanning using hash databases of verified illegal images should be used voluntarily by major platforms to reduce the reappearance of these images.

6 Where automated tools are used to detect illegal content, goods or services, what opportunities and risks does their use present as regards different types of illegal activities and the particularities of the different types of tools?

3000 character(s) maximum

With regard to child abuse images, the main risk is that the child abuse reporting organizations do not adhere to common standards about what images to report. In particular, INHOPE which is the association of reporting hotlines, allows its members to include artwork such as drawings in the same category as images of real child abuse. If the reporting hotline sector is to be regulated further, it should not be permitted for hotlines to intermix actual images of child abuse, which are illegal throughout the world, with images that are artistic and that do not directly harm any child. See further this open letter from Prostasia Foundation, Article 19, the Comic Book Legal Defense Fund and the National Coalition Against Censorship: <https://prostasia.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/01/Letter-to-Internet-hotlines.pdf>.

7 How should the spread of illegal goods, services or content across multiple platforms and services be addressed? Are there specific provisions necessary for addressing risks brought by:

- a. Digital services established outside of the Union?
- b. Sellers established outside of the Union, who reach EU consumers through online platforms?

3000 character(s) maximum

There is no way to accomplish the censorship of all illegal content through technical means without a "walled garden" approach such as adopted in China or by infringing fundamental rights. Scanning of identified illegal images at the infrastructure level would still only be a partial solution. This leaves non-technical interventions as the more promising option. Experts believe that nobody is condemned to commit sexual crimes against minors, and that by treating child abuse as a preventable public health problem, we have the means of preventing people from choosing to abuse. More financial support is needed for such public health interventions not only within Europe, but also abroad.

8 What would be appropriate and proportionate measures for digital services acting as online intermediaries, other than online platforms, to take – e.g. other types of hosting services, such as web hosts, or services deeper in the internet stack, like cloud infrastructure services, content distribution services, DNS services, etc.?

5000 character(s) maximum

As stated above, purely technical interventions are not an adequate solution to this problem and should not be prioritized over social interventions. Once a person has decided to offend by creating, downloading, or sharing illicit content, then they will certainly find a way of doing so through whatever private and anonymous communications channels they have access to. Eliminating access to encrypted communications software is not an option, because it would infringe fundamental rights—and also because it would be impossible to do so, since such software is now free and ubiquitous. There is no viable technical solution to this problem, and Europe must look for a more proactive and holistic approach that addresses offending at the source, rather than reacting only after it has taken place.

9 What should be the rights and responsibilities of other entities, such as authorities, or interested third-parties such as civil society organisations or equality bodies in contributing to tackle illegal activities online?

5000 character(s) maximum

10 What would be, in your view, appropriate and proportionate measures for online platforms to take in relation to activities or content which might cause harm but are not necessarily illegal?

5000 character(s) maximum

As stated above, government does not have a legitimate role in directly regulating speech that is harmful but not illegal. Freedom of expression does not include a "precautionary principle."

11 In particular, are there specific measures you would find appropriate and proportionate for online platforms to take in relation to potentially harmful activities or content concerning minors? Please explain.

5000 character(s) maximum

As stated above, platforms can improve the availability of resources for persons seeking help about their own or someone else's problematic sexual behaviors. Currently, peer and professional resources for people at risk of being involved in harmful activities concerning minors are very limited. We should not be depending on platforms to provide such resources, however we can ask that they disseminate them to their users. Where possible, platforms can also use unencrypted metadata to trigger notifications or warnings that can direct users to off-site support services. Prostate Foundation sponsors and promotes a peer support service that we are asking major platforms to make available to users who are at risk: see <https://mapsupport.club>.

17 Are there other concerns and mechanisms to address risks to other fundamental rights such as freedom of assembly, non-discrimination, gender equality, freedom to conduct a business, or rights of the child? How could these be addressed?

18 In your view, what information should online platforms make available in relation to their policy and measures taken with regard to content and goods offered by their users? Please elaborate, with regard to the identification of illegal content and goods, removal, blocking or demotion of content or goods offered, complaints mechanisms and reinstatement, the format and frequency of such information, and who can access the information.

5000 character(s) maximum

In this regard we support and refer you to the Santa Clara Principles On Transparency and Accountability in Content Moderation. See: <https://santaclaraprinciples.org>.

19 What type of information should be shared with users and/or competent authorities and other third parties such as trusted researchers with regard to the use of automated systems used by online platforms to detect, remove and/or block illegal content, goods, or user accounts?

5000 character(s) maximum

We do not insist that proprietary algorithms must be shared, but if not, then there must be adequate transparency and review mechanisms to address algorithms that misfire. Additionally, content should not be added to a hash database or blacklist without human review. Automated content restriction should be limited to the case of confirmed illegal images as identified by a content hash. Users should be notified when their content is added to a hash database or blacklist, or is subject to context-based restrictions, unless such notification would be prohibited by law. See further: <https://prostasia.org/project/sexual-content-moderation-principles/>.

20 In your view, what measures are necessary with regard to algorithmic recommender systems used by online platforms?

5000 character(s) maximum

The context in which lawful sexual content is posted, and whether there are reasonable grounds to believe that the persons depicted in it have consented to be depicted in that context, should be considered before making a decision to restrict or to promote it. If recommender systems could result in lawful material being displayed in an inappropriate context (eg. innocent videos of children being displayed with sexual-themed content), there should be mechanisms to report this and for it to be addressed through human intervention.

21 In your view, is there a need for enhanced data sharing between online platforms and authorities, within the boundaries set by the General Data Protection Regulation? Please select the appropriate situations, in your view:

- For supervisory purposes concerning professional users of the platform - e.g. in the context of platform intermediated services such as accommodation or ride-hailing services, for the purpose of labour inspection, for the purpose of collecting tax or social security contributions
- For supervisory purposes of the platforms' own obligations – e.g. with regard to content moderation obligations, transparency requirements, actions taken in electoral contexts and against inauthentic behaviour and foreign interference
- Specific request of law enforcement authority or the judiciary
- On a voluntary and/or contractual basis in the public interest or for other purposes

22 Please explain. What would be the benefits? What would be concerns for companies, consumers or other third parties?

23 What types of sanctions would be effective, dissuasive and proportionate for online platforms which systematically fail to comply with their obligations (See also the last module of the consultation)?

II. Reviewing the liability regime of digital services acting as intermediaries?

The liability of online intermediaries is a particularly important area of internet law in Europe and worldwide. The E-Commerce Directive harmonises the liability exemptions applicable to online intermediaries in the single market, with specific provisions for different services according to their role: from Internet access providers and messaging services to hosting service providers.

The previous section of the consultation explored obligations and responsibilities which online platforms and other services can be expected to take – i.e. processes they should put in place to address illegal activities which might be conducted by users abusing their service. In this section, the focus is on the legal architecture for the liability regime for service providers when it comes to illegal activities conducted by their users. The Commission seeks informed views on how the current liability exemption regime is working and the areas where an update might be necessary.

2 The liability regime for online intermediaries is primarily established in the E-Commerce Directive, which distinguishes between different types of services: so called ‘mere conduits’, ‘caching services’, and ‘hosting services’.

In your understanding, are these categories sufficiently clear and complete for characterising and regulating today’s digital intermediary services? Please explain.

5000 character(s) maximum

Any changes towards making hosting platforms responsible for speech of their users would be harmful to fundamental rights, and we oppose any recategorization of platforms that would result in such change. From experience in the United States under FOSTA/SESTA, we know that lawful speech about sexual health and abuse prevention would be just some of the content that will be over-censored if platforms become responsible for the speech of their users.

We support the current liability model that makes Internet platforms responsible for removing unlawful images of minors that come to their attention (using a “notice and takedown” approach), and we support the use of automated tools for the removal of the worst of these images, which is already an industry best practice. Changing the current liability model to make Internet platforms responsible for the actions of child sexual abusers will not help children, but will result in the censorship of protected speech.

For hosting services, the liability exemption for third parties' content or activities is conditioned by a knowledge standard (i.e. when they get 'actual knowledge' of the illegal activities, they must 'act expeditiously' to remove it, otherwise they could be found liable).

3 Are there aspects that require further legal clarification?

5000 character(s) maximum

4 Does the current legal framework dis-incentivize service providers to take proactive measures against illegal activities? If yes, please provide your view on how disincentives could be corrected.

5000 character(s) maximum

5 Do you think that the concept characterising intermediary service providers as playing a role of a 'mere technical, automatic and passive nature' in the transmission of information (recital 42 of the E-Commerce Directive) is sufficiently clear and still valid? Please explain.

5000 character(s) maximum

6 The E-commerce Directive also prohibits Member States from imposing on intermediary service providers general monitoring obligations or obligations to seek facts or circumstances of illegal activities conducted on their service by their users. In your view, is this approach, balancing risks to different rights and policy objectives, still appropriate today? Is there further clarity needed as to the parameters for 'general monitoring obligations'? Please explain.

5000 character(s) maximum

7 Do you see any other points where an upgrade may be needed for the liability regime of digital services acting as intermediaries?

5000 character(s) maximum

III. What issues derive from the gatekeeper power of digital platforms?

There is wide consensus concerning the benefits for consumers and innovation, and a wide-range of efficiencies, brought about by online platforms in the European Union’s Single Market. Online platforms facilitate cross-border trading within and outside the EU and open entirely new business opportunities to a variety of European businesses and traders by facilitating their expansion and access to new markets. At the same time, regulators and experts around the world consider that large online platforms are able to control increasingly important online platform ecosystems in the digital economy. Such large online platforms connect many businesses and consumers. In turn, this enables them to leverage their advantages – economies of scale, network effects and important data assets- in one area of their activity to improve or develop new services in adjacent areas. The concentration of economic power in then platform economy creates a small number of ‘winner-takes it all/most’ online platforms. The winner online platforms can also readily take over (potential) competitors and it is very difficult for an existing competitor or potential new entrant to overcome the winner’s competitive edge.

The Commission announced that it ‘will further explore, in the context of the Digital Services Act package, ex ante rules to ensure that markets characterised by large platforms with significant network effects acting as gatekeepers, remain fair and contestable for innovators, businesses, and new market entrants’.

This module of the consultation seeks informed views from all stakeholders on this framing, on the scope, the specific perceived problems, and the implications, definition and parameters for addressing possible issues deriving from the economic power of large, gatekeeper platforms.

The Communication ‘Shaping Europe’s Digital Future’ also flagged that ‘competition policy alone cannot address all the systemic problems that may arise in the platform economy’. Stakeholders are invited to provide their views on potential new competition instruments through a separate, dedicated open public consultation that will be launched soon.

In parallel, the Commission is also engaged in a process of reviewing EU competition rules and ensuring they are fit for the modern economy and the digital age. As part of that process, the Commission has launched a consultation on the proposal for a New Competition Tool aimed at addressing the gaps identified in enforcing competition rules. The initiative intends to address as specific objectives the structural competition problems that prevent markets from functioning properly and that can tilt the level playing field in favour of only a few market players. This could cover certain digital or digitally-enabled markets, as identified in the report by the Special Advisers and other recent reports on the role of competition policy, and/or other sectors. As such, the work on a proposed new competition tool and the initiative at stake complement each other. The work on the two impact assessments will be conducted in parallel in order to ensure a coherent outcome. In this context, the Commission will take into consideration the feedback received from both consultations. We would therefore invite you, in preparing your responses to the questions below, to also consider your response to the parallel consultation on a new competition tool.

IV. Other emerging issues and opportunities, including online advertising and smart contracts

Online advertising has substantially evolved over the recent years and represents a major revenue source for many digital services, as well as other businesses present online, and opens unprecedented opportunities for content creators, publishers, etc. To a large extent, maximising revenue streams and optimising online advertising are major business incentives for the business users of the online platforms and for shaping the data policy of the platforms. At the same time, revenues from online advertising as well as increased visibility and audience reach are also a major incentive for potentially harmful intentions, e.g. in online disinformation campaigns.

Another emerging issue is linked to the conclusion of 'smart contracts' which represent an important innovation for digital and other services, but face some legal uncertainties.

This section of the open public consultation seeks to collect data, information on current practices, and informed views on potential issues emerging in the area of online advertising and smart contracts.

Respondents are invited to reflect on other areas where further measures may be needed to facilitate innovation in the single market. This module does not address privacy and data protection concerns; all aspects related to data sharing and data collection are to be afforded the highest standard of personal data protection.

V. How to address challenges around the situation of self-employed individuals offering services through online platforms?

Individuals providing services through platforms may have different legal status (workers or self-employed). This section aims at gathering first information and views on the situation of self-employed individuals

VI. What governance for reinforcing the Single Market for digital services?

The EU's Single Market offers a rich potential for digital services to scale up, including for innovative European companies. Today there is a certain degree of legal fragmentation in the Single Market . One of the main objectives for the Digital Services Act will be to improve opportunities for innovation and 'deepen the Single Market for Digital Services'.

This section of the consultation seeks to collect evidence and views on the current state of the single market and steps for further improvements for a competitive and vibrant Single market for digital services. This module also inquires about the relative impact of the COVID-19 crisis on digital services in the Union. It then focuses on the appropriate governance and oversight over digital services across the EU and means to enhance the cooperation across authorities for an effective supervision of services and for the equal protection of all citizens across the single market. It also inquires about specific cooperation arrangements such as in the case of consumer protection authorities across the Single Market, or the regulatory oversight and cooperation mechanisms among media regulators. This section is not intended to focus on the enforcement of EU data protection rules (GDPR).

14 Please explain

The following questions are targeted at all respondents.

Governance of digital services and aspects of enforcement

The 'country of origin' principle is the cornerstone of the Single Market for digital services. It ensures that digital innovators, including start-ups and SMEs, have a single set of rules to follow (that of their home country), rather than 27 different rules.

This is an important precondition for services to be able to scale up quickly and offer their services across borders. In the aftermath of the COVID-19 outbreak and effective recovery strategy, more than ever, a strong Single Market is needed to boost the European economy and to restart economic activity in the EU.

At the same time, enforcement of rules is key; the protection of all EU citizens regardless of their place of residence, will be in the centre of the Digital Services Act.

The current system of cooperation between Member States foresees that the Member State where a provider of a digital service is established has the duty to supervise the services provided and to ensure that all EU citizens are protected. A cooperation mechanism for cross-border cases is established in the E-Commerce Directive.

1 Based on your experience, how would you assess the cooperation in the Single Market between authorities entrusted to supervise digital services?

2 What governance arrangements would lead to an effective system for supervising and enforcing rules on online platforms in the EU in particular as regards the intermediation of third party goods, services and content (See also Chapter 1 of the consultation)?

As terrible as child abuse is, it would be a betrayal of our children's future to allow their interests to be touted as a false justification for the imposition of measures that would infringe their fundamental rights. The good news is that experts believe that it isn't necessary to rely on Internet censorship and surveillance in order to protect children from abuse. Indeed, the over-reliance on such measures has created a situation in which legal authorities agree that abuse has spiraled out of control, and that they can do nothing more than "fight fires." Doubling down on the same failed approach of censorship is not going to be sufficient to turn this around.

Prostasia Foundation encourages the Commission not to over-emphasize Internet regulation in its response to the problem of child sexual abuse. A large majority of child sexual abuse is not committed by strangers online, but by trusted people who are known to the child's family. About a third of those who commit abuse are minors themselves. Social interventions can prevent much of this abuse from occurring in the first place, and save children from harm. Currently such interventions are drastically underfunded and underprioritized. We would like to see the Commission showing leadership in a new approach to the problem of child sexual abuse, by prioritizing prevention first.
